

When disaster strikes your site, run your business from ours.

Maybe your organization can't afford to maintain its own separate, duplicate data center for recovery in the event of disaster.

But that doesn't mean you can afford to forego a disaster recovery plan.

PSR RecoveryCenter is a disaster recovery service created specifically for PSR customers. Should your data center go down, RecoveryCenter lets you switch operations to PSR's data center, and manage operations remotely or in person.

You get the resources and expertise you need to stay up and running, from the company that knows your mainframe and data center by heart—all for a predictable, manageable monthly cost.

Get every resource you need to stay up and running in the event of disaster—from the company that knows your data center by heart.

Have a fully-equipped hotsite at your disposal. PSR's RecoveryCenter is fully equipped with multiple processors, terabytes of storage capacity, a variety of peripheral devices and full-power generator backup—everything you need to switch your operations from your data center to ours if disaster strikes.

Test your recovery solution remotely. Fully test your disaster recovery execution from your location, via dial-up, Internet, or dedicated network connection to the RecoverCenter. PSR offers generous testing hours, flexible test scheduling, and multiple testing options. And you can draw from our experience conducting hundreds of recovery tests for our customers.

Recover remotely or at our site. In the event of disaster, connect to the RecoveryCenter from your location (via dial-up, Internet or dedicated network connection) and manage your recovery remotely using multiple security levels. Or travel to our suburban Boston location, convenient to transportation and accommodations, and run your business from our the RecoveryCenter. The Center is equipped with all the office support you need, including workstations, phones, voicemail, printers, copiers, and fax machines—and our experienced staff is always on hand to help.

Reasonable prices, flexible terms. PSR RecoveryCenter services are available for a reasonable monthly fee, based on MIPS and disk storage levels. You pay no additional charges for tape drives, printers and other peripherals you use. And you pay no cancellation fee should you stop using your IBM mainframe during the term of your RecoveryCenter contract.

A proven solution—and a wise investment. At PSR we've created disaster recovery plans for customers in all industries. To learn how we can create one for you, call us today at 800-692-4777.
